Art Unit: 3744

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-28, drawn to a refrigeration circuit having two evaporators and three expanding units, classified in class 62, subclass 504.
 - II. Claims 29-30, drawn to a refrigeration circuit having two evaporators and two flow paths, classified in class 62, subclass 198.
 - III. Claim 31, drawn to a refrigeration circuit having two expanding units of different inside diameters, classified in class 62, subclass 511.
 - IV. Claims 32-33, drawn to a method of defrosting an evaporator and increasing the humidity level of a refrigerator compartment, classified in class 62, subclass 92.
 - V. Claim 34, drawn to a method of defrosting an evaporator comprising operating a fan a preset time period after stopping the compressor, classified in class 62, subclass 89.
 - VI. Claim 35, drawn to a refrigeration circuit having two flow paths and a control unit for selecting the flow paths using a timer, classified in class 62, subclass 231.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions I and II are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the combination requires three expanding units. The subcombination has separate utility such as by itself, with only two expanding units.

3. Inventions IV and III are related as process and apparatus for its practice. The inventions are distinct if it can be shown that either: (1) the process as claimed can be practiced by another materially different apparatus or by hand, or (2) the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process. (MPEP § 806.05(e)). In this case the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process such as one that does not require increasing the humidity of the refrigerator compartment.

4. Inventions V and VI are related as process and apparatus for its practice. The inventions are distinct if it can be shown that either: (1) the process as claimed can be practiced by another materially different apparatus or by hand, or (2) the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process. (MPEP § 806.05(e)). In this case the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process such as one that does not require the compartment fan to run for a predetermined time after the compressor is stopped.

5. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Art Unit: 3744

6. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

7. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
